

A Franco-American Demonstration.

Copyright, 1900, The Associated Press.

PARIS, June 2.—The Vendôme celebration on Monday next promises to take the form of an interesting Franco-American demonstration. United States Ambassador Porter will leave on Sunday to take part in the ceremony attending the unveiling of the monument to Count de Rochambeau, toward the erection of which the members of the embassy and many other Americans have subscribed. An official character is given to the event by the decision of the Cabinet to send representatives of the Ministries of War and the Navy.

The New York Times

Published: June 3, 1900

Copyright © The New York Times